RULE ADOPTED BY THE ASSOCIATION.

IT WILL REMOVE ALL TRACES OF ALLEGED PROFESSIONALISM FROM COLLEGE

FOOTBALL. An important meeting of the Intercollegiate Football Association was held at the Windsor Hotel last night.
The meeting was decidedly more harmonious than was anticipated and all the suggestions made at last week's session were adopted. Only undergraduates may hereafter play on the college football teams, and while the University of Pennsylvania does not like the move it is hardly probable that the Fennsylvania men will retire from the association. The descripts a property week! ciation. The delegaces present were: A. Maffitt and Vance C. McCormics, of Yale; George C. Fraser, J. McN. Thompson and Phillip King, of Princeton; A. Thorndike and W. Gordon, of Wesleyan; John C. Boll, of the Advisory Board; Mr. Thornton and the newly elected captain of the eleven were present to look after the interests of the Princeton; and the presentation of a portialt of the entry Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House doubtless brought this interesting fact to the after the research of the eleven were present to look after the interests of the Princeton; and the presentation of a portialt of the entry New Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House doubtless brought this interesting fact to the after the research of the eleven was giver elected Speaker of the House doubtless brought this interesting fact to the after the object of the eleven was present to look after the interests of the Princeton; and the presentation of a portialt of the entry Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House doubtless brought this interesting fact to the after than the presentation of a portialt of the entry Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House doubtless brought this interesting fact to the after the object of the considerable number of people for the first than the presentation of a portial to the entry Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the House Yorker who was giver elected Speaker of the Pol the University of Pennsylvania.

Yale suggested the plan, and she stated her case so well that Princeton and Wesleyan were soon in line. The University of Pennsylvania men opposed the scheme vehicle mently, but they were outnumbered three to one, and against such odds they were forced to succumb, and the rule was passed. It is as follows:

The University of Pennsylvania men distike the rule, but they said nothing in the meeting about resigning congress up to and including the XXIId, its entire term of service in that Cornell seat in an application for admission, but the application was laid on the table to be brought up at another meeting. It was said last night that in case the University of Pennsylvania resigned Cornell would slip in to fill the vacancy. Nothing was heard from Haivard and the delegates said that they anticipated nothing.

The change in the rules will be greeted with much enthusiasm by all lovers of pure athletic sports, and it will remove every trace of alleged professionalism.

Grosvenor, of Englewood, J. Shane, of Syracuse; A. W. Sice and Robert Miller were reinstated. The applications of the following were rejected: J. F. Norton, W. D. Keyser, H. Rubie, W. F. Fiynn, F. A. Torres and F. L. Zaches, H. Rubie, W. F. Fiynn, F. A. Torres and F. L. Zaches.

The action of refusing to register the Yorkville Athletic Club was approved. A. K. Craig was declared a professional. R. S. Baird's and J. Barry's suspensions professional. R. S. Baird's and J. Bairy's anspensions were removed, and the cases of several other boxers and wrestlers were laid at the table. The following clubs were elected to membership: White Piains, Roseville and Iroquois. The Brooklyn Athletic Club was restored to Iroquois. The Brooklyn Athletic Club was restored to membership. E. C. Carter, the handicapper, will no longer get a salary, but he will retain the fees instead. He will receive 10 cents an entry for handicaps. Permission was given to the Ravenswood Boat Club to give boxing tournaments for the championship of Long Island. The Pastime Athletic Club may give a tournament for the championship of New-York State.

HANDICAP FENCING TOURNAMENT.

HANDICAP FENCING TOURNAMENT.

The first handicap fencing tournament ever held in New-York City was given last night in the rooms of the Fencers' Club, No. 8 West Twenty-eighthest. There was a smell attendance of spectators, but the various bouts were well contested. Dr. J. J. Remp. of the New-York Athletic Club, won the gold medal, with a score of 34.71 points, beating his closest opponent, C. W. Coleman, of the Central Turn Verein, by 3.25 points. Out of the twelve entries for the tournament, eight men toed the chalk lines at 8 o'clock. They were Chailes G. Bothner, Central Turn Verein (secratch); C. C. Nadal, Fencers' Club, and J. J. Kemp, N. Y. A. C. (allowed three points each); J. P. Counert, Fr., N. Y. A. C. (allowed five points), and C. W. Coleman, Central Turn Verein; F. Schlieff, N. Y. A. C., and W. Whitlock, Fencers' Club (allowed ten points each). The score stood at the end of the evening as follows: Kemp, 34.71; Coleman, 31.46; Bothner, 20.73; Schlieff, 20.62. 23.74; Coudert, 22.73; Schlieff, 20.62.

Apparently satisfied with the results of the regular test, but with a view to determine what force the plate would withstand, the Russian officials next fired at the armor with a nine-inch gun, using a steel projectile weighing 406 pounds, with a striking velocity of 1,655 feet per second. This was recognized as an unusual test for a plate of ten inches. The shot seriously cracked the plate, particularly in the back. No part of the plate ield off the wood backing, however. No bolts were broken, and only one was bent. By firing another shell from this gun with a velocity of 1,889 feet per second the plate was totally wrecked, but the shell penetrated only to the plate's wood backing, and was itself shattered to pieces. RESULT OF THE FIRE IN WASHINGTON-ST.

A PORTRAIT OF JOHN W. TAYLOR TO BE AT FIRST SUPPOSED. The firemen will not soon forget the fire that wrecked the big storage warehouse of Rowland Story & Son, at Washington and King sts., early yesterday morning. It was an unusually rapid fire, and it quickly laid the four-story brick building in ruins As the walls fell outward, four of the regular firemen and two men of the insurance patrol were caught and partly buried by the descending bricks. No man was killed outright, but two of the firemen were injured so seriously that it is feared that they may die This is a list of the injured men: Joseph Coyle, Hook and Ladder Company No. 8, an injury to the spine and hart internally. He was sent to St. Vincent's Hospital. William J. Cuytla, of the same company had his left wrist cut severely. He was sent to St Vincent's also. James Reynolds, same company, had both legs broken and received dangerous internal injuries. His condition at St. Vincent's Hospital yes fractured and his left leg broken. His spine was hart also. He was removed to the Chambers Street Hospital, and he was said to be in danger of dying there yesterday. Abraham Hull, the superintenden of the Fire Patrol, received severe bruless on the body and suffered from shock, but he was able to go to his

Over the nomination of Mr. McComus a rather stormy time ensued. It habeen asserted that both Senators Gorman and Gibson of Maryland, would offer no objection to the confirma-tion, but this is not borne out by the proceedings of the last session, at which time it is said Mr. Gorman declared himself opposed to the confirmation. #### STRAY NOTES HERE AND THERE.

men hastly climbed back to the roof of the soap The name of Benjamin F. Butler will always be asfactory, but Corle, Curtin, Reynolds and Robinson sociated with spoons, though the appellation "Spoon' Butler was never generally applied to him except in the South. By his enemies General Butler was called every vile name under the sun except fool. Even the bitterest among them gave him the credit of hav ing an extraordinary quantity of brains. read, like Daniel Webster's, increased with his year His brain weighed four ounces more than Webster's which was one of the largest on record. The brain of a man of average intelligence weighs from 46 to 53 ounces, that of an idlot about 23 ounces, that of a ounces, that of an idiot about 23 ounces, that of a woman from 41 to 47 ounces. The size of the brain was believed by the ancients to bear a general relation to the intellectual capacity of the individual. Cuvier's brain weighest rather more than 64 ounces, that of Dr. Abercrembie 63 ounces, and that of Dapuytren 02 1-2 ounces, these were men of unusual intelligence. On t' other hand, it is well known that these weights have been equalled by the brains of persons who never displayed any remarkable intellect. There was a mulatto in Cincinnait whose brain weighed 68 3-8 ounces. He had been a slave, and was never regarded as particularly intelligent. He was tilliterate, but it said to have been reserved, meditative and economical. The brain of Carey, the Irish informer, weighed 61 ounces.

The last time that spoons were vividly recalled to General Butler was on the occasion of his last lecture in Cincinnati. It was in Pike's Opera House, before that handsome place of amusement became the home of the Chamber of Commerce. Some practical jokerbored a hole in the proscendum arch, and as the General was approaching the climax of his speech lowered a large spoon on a string till it hung within a foot of him. The General's eye had not been operated on then, and he could not see very well. The indistinct vision of something in the air caused him t step, back a pace or two and strike at it with his hand step, back a pace or two and strike at it with his hand. He probably thought it was a fly. The spoon descended another toot, and he then recognized it. The speciators were watching the scene in speechies anazement, wondering what would happen next. The lecturer paused a moment, then quietly extended his hand and grasped the spoon.

"Ah," he said. "there's one I didn't get." With that he put the spoon in his pocket, and when the hughler and wild shouting of the spectators had ceased, continued his speech as if nothing had hapmened.

If Ferdinand de Lesseps had completed the Panama innal the whole world would have bent the knee to His fall has degraded France, disgraced him and rulned his friends. The Suez Canal is a lasting monument to his genius; the Panama Canal is his tombstone. The world has forgotten the abuse and ridicule heaped upon him before he carried to successful completion the project of joining the waters of the Mediterranear the project of joining the waters of the Mediterranean to those of the Red Sea, a project in which the Pharnobs, Darins the Great, Napoleon Bonaparte and Mehemet All had folled. He was a quarter of a century maturing this plans, and ten years in building the canal. The actual cost of the cutal was $87,500,000, and the net profits in a single year have been as much as $60,000,000. England owns more than two-fifths of the canal, and has profited more by it than all the other nations of the world put together.

A good man's breath got him in trouble on one nen" nutler fashion, and attracted the attention of the conductor. There is no street-car rule preventing n from carrying an unlighted eigar in his mouth, nd the man in question thought he was all right. but the day was very cold, and once in a while the man removed the cigar to blow his nose. The warm breath congealing caused the conductor to think he was smoking; he was sure that he saw clouds of mode issuing from the passenger's mouth. standing it for two or three blocks, he walked up and Everybody heard the rebuke and all eyes were turned on the offender, who said nothing, but conmed to hold the eigar in his teeth, blowing great touds of white breath around it. After a while the conductor approached again. "No smoking in this car," he said. "You'll have

The passenger moved not, and the other passengers looked on in amazement. Developments were expected at any moment, as the conductor seemed to be a man not to be fooled with. The clouds of smoke continued to rise.

"If you don't quit your smoking I'll put you off the car. Don't you know it's agin the tules?"

"My good friend," said the passenger, "if you look at this cigar you will see that it has never been lighted. I do not smoke. I have a bad habit of sometimes chewing a cigar, and am chewing one now. I am not offending anyone, am 1."

The conductor apologized, and retired to the rear platform. platform.

FARRELL SAYS HE SAW THE "CLEAR" SIGNAL Yardmaster Headley, of the Pennsylvania Railroad vesterday continued his investigation of the acciden which occurred on the Hackensack meadows Thursday night. Engineer Farrell, of the Chesapeake and Ohio train, who did not return to Jersey City unfil yes perday, told his story. He said he did not enter the coal chute block until after he had seen the "clear" signal. As his eyes fell from the signal he saw the brakeman of the Waverly local waving a red lantern, and at the same moment he saw the red lights the local train. It was then too late to stop. The the brakes and did the best he could. The crews o both trains gave similar evidence. The investigation will be finished to-morrow, but the company will take no action until after the inquest to be held by Coroner Parslow on Tuesday night.
